Keith's Corner

I have been looking for a photo of the old grandstand at the ball park. I found one, but it was too large to scan, so I took pictures of sections of it. Here is an enlarged one with the grandstand. Note the "McGill Community League" on the front.

This was a game played on September 1, 1929. I was able to bring up the score board out in right field to see the first inning score—Ruth 3, McGill 0. I will be trying to find out what the final score was. Sorry for the grainy pictures.

UPDATE—I checked in my first book "History of McGill Baseball" and found that on Labor Day 1929, Ruth beat McGill 20 to 10. m

The building is the grade school wood shop. It is gone now and there is a bus garage there. I wonder whose cars those were? Also, wonder who the boys are sitting on the scoreboard bench?

The photo above is the bleachers on the right of the grandstand. There were bleachers on both sides. At the end of each bleacher was a small unit for each team. They were not "dugouts". They had a wooden floor.

McGill News

McGill, is part of a new documentary being done on White Pine County. It is being done by these three guys. I managed to get them to hold still long enough for a quick pic at the McGill Club.

The guy on the right is Chevas, the producer/director and editor. He is from New York City. The one on the left is Xan, from Spain. He is the soundman that wired s everyone up with a hidden mic. The stiff horizontal one is Yoshi, from Tokyo, Japan. He runs the cameras. They are all internationally known as experts in their fields. Great bunch of guys to hang out with. They spent about 2 months all over the county. The finished film will be done in about 1-2 years and is to be shown at a local theater.

The McGill theater has been cleaned out of all debris and hopefully will be in operation to show this film. Rudy is also hard at work on the IOOF Hall. Two great projects for our town.
